Employees of the Months

Carolina Martin-Childress is a welcome addition to our HR Department. She has been with us just over a year now. She was hired as we were faced with replacing our H2B workforce companywide for 2008. As a company we had never had to hire that many employees in such a short time period., and Carolina jumped right in and started putting together systems and procedures to meet the goals that management had set for the HR department.

Carolina has a very friendly demeanor both in person and over the phone. She truly respects all types of people and that comes through to those that contact The Gallegos Corporation about employment. Carolina is on the phone with potential employees several hours each day. She had been very successful in screening applicants so they know what to expect when they come to work for Gallegos and so that divisions know the qualifications of those applicants they are talking to. Carolina has also been a big help in translating for HR and assisting with the new hire meeting we have each month. She is a great addition to our HR team and we are very happy to have her as part of the team.

Thank you for ensuring TGC has the best people for the job!

Carlos has been with the Denver Masonry division since October of 2004. He was hired as a journeyman mason for the Little Raven Brownstones project. Over the last four years Carlos has proven to be one of the best unit masons in the company. Carlos recently returned from a stint with the Vail Masonry division where he helped supervise the operations at the Arrabelle project. Currently, Carlos is the foreman on one of the Denver Masonry division's most complex projects, North Creek Phase III. He has done an excellent job overseeing the daily operations as well as planning ahead for future needs and expectations.

"Carlos' help has been instrumental to the progress on the job thus far and his organization and leadership are exceptional," reports J.C. Slocum. Thanks to Carlos for all of his efforts and keep up the good work.

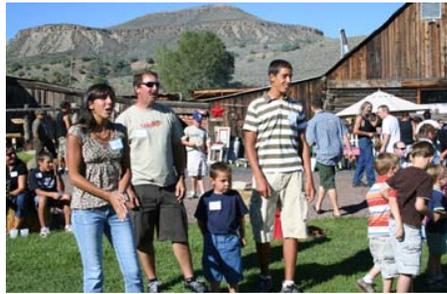

Brandi Resa joined our Accounting team January 28, 2008 as our Accounts Payable Supervisor. Brandi has turned out to be a tremendous addition to the Accounting Team and The Gallegos Corporation. Under her leadership she is training and cross training the Accounts Payable staff in all areas of the AP department.

Brandi recognizes her staff daily for their good deeds. She has developed a "Thank You" bucket which has small prizes that Brandi uses to reward outstanding work both in and outside the accounting department. Under her watch AP is taking more discounts and catching more sales tax calculation errors by our vendors than ever before. When Dani asked her staff to provide a "Warm Fuzzy" about Brandi some of them replied "What is a warm fuzzy?" However, after explaining the meaning they came up with the following: Brandi is a great boss who is very kind and generous. She doesn't micro-manage and is very flexible. She is always willing to lend a hand to help and always teaches us new things that she learns. And OMG...her love for ice cream is something to behold!!! It is a blessing to have Brandi as part of the Accounting Team and The Gallegos Corporation. Thanks for all you do, and good luck on your next ultra marathon!

Dustin Posegate has always been a great employee with a great attitude. He works in the Marble/Granite Division as Journeyman Tile Setter. He never complains, comes to work with the right attitude and always wears a smile. Over the last two years that he has been with The Gallegos Corporation, Dustin has developed his talent and is a valuable journeyman tile setter. He is a strong part of the Division 40 workforce, and has worked on some of the largest and most important projects we have had the last couple years with great success. We appreciate all that you do Dustin. Thanks for your great attitude and excellent work!
